PIZZA DRIVER ROBBED

On May 18, 2008, around 9:20 p.m., New Bern police received a call from a Pizza Hut delivery driver that she had just been robbed at an apartment at 3405 Windhill Court.

The victim told officers as she arrived to make the delivery, she noticed a young black male who was talking on a cell phone standing nearby. She said she felt uncomfortable and turned to leave, when the suspect ran up to her. She said he demanded her to give him the pizza she was holding and any money she had. The victim said the suspect punched her in the face and two or three other black males joined him, kicking her while she was on the ground.

The victim and witnesses were unable to provide detailed descriptions of the suspects, but said all of them were young black males, possibly teenagers.

The suspects got away with pizza, sodas and a small amount of cash.

New Bern police continue to look for the suspects, the investigation is ongoing and anyone with information is asked to contact investigators at 252-633-2020.
